Among the institutional benchmarks established during the period documented by this annual report one number rises above the rest: the $5.4 million in contributions received in 2013 by the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County. This nearly doubled the previous total giving record established in 2009.

This impressive single-year contributions mark was made possible in part by two other all-time records, including:

- Largest endowment gift – A $2 million scholarship bequest from the estate of Glen E. Smith of Utica; and
- Most individual gifts – 1,011, attesting to the broadening base of community participation in the Foundation.

It goes without saying these achievements, amplified by favorable investment markets, also propelled total assets of the Community Foundation to their highest level in history at $46.6 million. (See page 25 for the 2013 audited financial statement.) Spoiler alert: as this report goes to press, the Community Foundation is on track to exceed $50 million in total assets by its 70th anniversary in December 2014.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR’S YEAR IN REVIEW

The Community Foundation acknowledges the research efforts of Cheri Butcher, Cynthia Merrin, Kathy Bartlebaugh and Gina Stephens of the First-Knox National Bank Trust Department, as well as those of Ian Watson. Thanks also to intern Jordan Shremshock, College of Wooster ’16, for her editorial contributions.

The future of Camp Cornish Foundation, a new supporting organization of the Community Foundation, purchased the property from Girl Scouts of Ohio’s Heartland. GSOH had announced plans to sell the Monroe Township camp, which had provided outdoor recreational experiences to generations of local Girl Scouts. Camp Cornish is now available to Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and youth groups of all kinds, as well as corporate, non-profit and private rentals. Rental information is available at www.campcornish.org. The Camp Cornish Foundation invites private and corporate contributions to help maintain the campgrounds and lodge, and to help maintain modest rental fees.

$$5.4 million in contributions led Foundation’s record-setting$$
A meandering roadway through the sun-streaked canopy of trees connects the lower and upper park venues and accesses scattered picnic sites along the south bank of the park’s central lake.

Schormeier’s vision for the post-industrial settings of Ariel-Foundation Park includes formidable sculpture-studded terraces, reflecting ponds, a unique 1,000 lineal-foot labyrinth, preservation of three former factory structures for hosting of community events, and the erection of a spiral staircase and observation deck climbing more than halfway up the iconic PPG smokestack.

Contributing to the park’s allure is the fortuitous merger of the Kokosing Gap Trail and the new Heart of Ohio Trail at the CA&C Depot. The combined Centerburg to Danville trails comprise the virtual midpoint of the soon-to-be-completed 300-mile Lake Erie to Ohio River Trail system. Riders and hikers on trail will encounter panoramic views of Ariel-Foundation Park that will undoubtedly entice them to linger in the community, eventually contributing to Mount Vernon’s aspirations for enhanced tourism.

Securing Camp Cornish in rural Monroe Township for future generations of area scouts was also a major achievement of 2013.

Following the 2009 merger of the local Girl Scouts council with the Girl Scouts of Ohio’s Heartland, the fate of Camp Cornish came into question as GSOH announced a plan to divest itself of campgrounds it deemed to be economically unsustainable.

Concerned that the Community Foundation’s considerable investment of $60,000 in the new Camp Cornish lodge between the years 2003 and 2008 might be lost in a 2009 sale to a private party, the Foundation assembled a coalition of local donors to buy back the property from the Columbus-based Girl Scouts council.

As part of the negotiated purchase agreement GSOH may use the camp a specified number of days for a 15-year period. A new supporting organization, the Camp Cornish Foundation, has been created within the Community Foundation to maintain the property and to promote use of the camp by youth groups of all kinds. The camp is also being made available for rental by businesses, organizations and private functions. (Facility and rental information is available at www.campcornish.org.)

One barometer of a Community Foundation’s vitality is the number of new endowment funds created by local donors. Last year’s total of 20 new funds was eclipsed only by the 22 created in 2007 (a year in which three donors created nine new funds among them).

As in 2012 the availability of a 50 percent match for endowment contributions of $10,000 to $50,000 was a major factor in the creation of new funds, and the addition of assets to existing funds. As of December 31, 2013, 23 donors had contributed more than $1 million combined, qualifying for more than $44,000 in matching grants to their funds from the Ariel Corporation Fund’s “New Philanthropy” program, which has continued with equal success into the 2014 Community Foundation giving year.

Sharing news of our new funds is one of the most satisfying aspects of preparing this annual report. On the following two pages you will find photographs representing either new fund sponsors, or those who have been memorialized with an endowed charitable fund. Beginning on page 8 you will find, color-coded and grouped by fund type, a comprehensive catalog of the funds that comprise the Community Foundation, including names of contributors, beneficiaries, and year-end fund values. Funds established in 2013 were:

New Donor-Advised Funds

- The Bazzoli Family Medical Education Fund was created with a $75,000 gift from Allan S. Bazzoli, M.D., and was matched with a $25,000 New Philanthropy Fund grant. The fund will support medical education in general, and scholarships for Knox County medical students in particular.

- The Gregg E. and Cheryl A. Lloyd Family Fund was created with a contribution of $80,000 and qualified for a $25,000 New Philanthropy Fund match. The fund will support charitable endeavors primarily in the Fredericktown community.

- The Marc and Jen Odenweller Community Investment Fund was established with a stock gift of $34,762 and was matched with a New Philanthropy Fund contribution of $17,381.

New Designated Funds

- The Jim and Annette Puster Fund was created with a gift of $10,000, matched by a New Philanthropy Fund grant of $5,000, and will provide perpetual support

Remaining income will be made available to the Community Foundation for its unrestricted grants program.

- Carlos E. and Celestine A. Watkins United Way Fund was established with a $60,000 gift from Celestine Watkins, and a $25,000 match from the New Philanthropy Fund. Income from the fund will be contributed to United Way of Knox County’s annual fund drive.

- The Jewish Cemetery Fund was created by the Jewish Cemetery Society of Knox County for the construction and maintenance of the County’s first Jewish Cemetery, located adjacent to the Quarry Chapel Cemetery near Gambier.

- The Foundation Park Conservancy Fund was established by the Conservancy to receive contributions of equities, and to enhance investment returns from cash reserves, during the two-year construction period of Ariel-Foundation Park. The fund will eventually serve as an endowment to provide ongoing support for park maintenance and development.

- The Fredericktown Stadium Rehabilitation Fund, as the name implies, was established by the Fredericktown Athletic Boosters to attract contributions for safety-related improvements to the Stadium facility, which were completed in the summer of 2014.

New Scholarship Funds

- Arthur and Joan Cassell Scholarship Fund, established with gifts of $8,336 from Arthur Cassell, will provide scholarships, primarily in the East Knox School District, where Joan Cassell taught for most of her education career.
• The Josie L. Kaylor Memorial Nursing Scholarship Fund was created in memory of 2012 Danville High School graduate Josie L. Kaylor with memorial contributions totalling $21,785. Scholarships will be awarded to Danville graduates pursuing nursing studies.

• The Chuck Lawson Memorial Scholarship Fund was established with memorial contributions of $21,874, including a $10,000 gift from Joyce Lawson that was matched by a $5,000 New Philanthropy Fund grant. The fund, honoring Mount Vernon High School’s long-time orchestra director, will provide scholarships to MVHS graduates who pursue performance of a stringed instrument in a college ensemble.

• The Ohiolina Scholarship Fund was created with a portion of the ticket proceeds from the first annual Ohiolina (pronounced Ohio-LINE-a) Music Festival held in September 2013 (see page 6). The fund will eventually provide scholarships to support music education.

• The Stephen J. Short Scholarship Fund was established by the Mount Vernon Board of Education to honor retiring school superintendent Steve Short. The fund will provide scholarships to MVHS graduates, who during their high school careers participated in at least one full season on a varsity athletic team and at least one full year in an instrumental or vocal music ensemble.

• The Harold W. Smith Family Scholarship Fund was created with a $2 million bequest from the estate of Glenn E. Smith of Utica, and will provide renewable scholarships to graduates of Utica High School. Preference will be given to UHS graduates who have completed half of the credits required for a bachelor’s degree, and who are pursuing degrees in business or agriculture.

• The Utica Class of 1956 Scholarship Fund was established with a distribution of $10,930 from the Licking County Foundation, where the scholarship fund previously was administered. Members of the 1956 Utica High School graduating class participate in the selection of UHS graduates, who have attained a prescribed grade point average and who have maintained high moral and ethical standards.

• The LouAnne and Gerald Walker Science Scholarship Fund was created with multiple memorial contributions from family and friends following the death of Gerald “Gus” Walker in 2013. His wife of 62 years, LouAnne, had predeceased him. Family members have chosen to award scholarships from the fund to students from any Knox County public high school who are pursuing post-secondary study of science.

• The Rich and Suzanne Cochran Family Fund was created with gifts totalling $15,212 from the Cochrans and the New Philanthropy matching gift program. Income from the fund will support the Foundation’s competitive grant program.

• The Robert T. and Nancy S. Harnsberger Fund was established with a partial distribution of a $16,717 bequest following the death of Nancy Harnsberger in 2013. In addition to funding the unrestricted grants program of the Foundation, portions of the trust also benefitted Boy Scouts of America Muskingum Valley, the Mount Vernon YMCA, and Hospice of Knox County.

Retiring board chair Bruce Hawkins

Retiring board member Gene Jackson

Two members of the Community Foundation board of directors accepted emeritus status in 2013, as Chair Bruce Hawkins reached his 10-year term limit on December 31. Mount Vernon Mayor Richard K. Mavis was nominated by City Council to take Hawkins’ place on the board beginning Jan. 1, 2014. The other board transition was prompted by a change of employment by Gene Jackson. Susan Sukys, who resides in Gambier and is a financial planner and investment advisor in Mount Vernon, was nominated by the Knox Area Chamber of Commerce to complete the remaining 18 months of Jackson’s term. She will be eligible for re-election in January 2015.

Regular readers of this annual report may observe a subtle change in the way we have chosen to document the activity of our 331 component funds.

Individual fund data continues to be grouped by fund type; for example, donor-advised, scholarship, designated, etc. However, this year we have color-coded the sections for quicker navigation, and we have included donor and grantee information for each fund (where applicable) in a combined listing with year-end market values and giving totals. The fund catalog begins on page 8 and continues several pages.

We hope you will take a few moments to peruse the lists of board members and other volunteers we refer to as our “Partners in Philanthropy” found on pages 22-23. Without their services the Community Foundation simply could not function. Please thank them for their service when you encounter them in the community. Finally, our 2013 audited financial statements are presented on the inside back cover.

Thank you for your continued support of the Foundation.

– Executive Director Sam Barone

Imagine ... a treasure of books for every child!

According to Lisa Rutter of the Knox County United Way, “There’s a lot of talk about closing the achievement gap. But not sufficient recognition that we’re losing that battle before our children ever step foot in the classroom.”

With the help of local partners, including the Community Foundation, United Way is working diligently to close this achievement gap through Dolly Parton’s “Imagination Library” program. The collaborative effort ensures registered children receive a free, age-appropriate book every month until they turn five. The “Imagination Library” of Knox County has reached 41.6% of eligible children under the age of five.

Dolly Parton founded the program in 1996 to provide free books to children in her home county in eastern Tennessee. Since then early 40 million books have been delivered to children across the U.S., Canada, and the U.K.

Jen Odenweller, Executive Director of United Way of Knox County, brought the program to our community, beginning in June 2010 with only 22 children; the program now serves 2,019 children in 1,523 households at a donated cost of $25 per child.

Ohiolina: Celebrating the sounds of the I-77 corridor

Chris Koenig had a great idea, but not a corporate sponsor in sight when someone suggested he make a call to the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County.

As a result he was able to stage the first annual Ohiolina (pronounced Ohio-LINE-uh) Music Festival in September 2013 on the 85-acre Doug and Beth Morgan Farm south of Mount Vernon.

Koenig and his wife Sarah, both from Ohio and both musically inclined, met in North Carolina where it became their goal to merge the musical and cultural qualities of both states along the I-77 corridor.

The festival featured a day-long combination of old-time, rock n’ roll, true country, and Appalachian bluegrass folk music.

Why Mount Vernon, Ohio? Koenig got acquainted with the area through the Morgan’s son, with whom he works at The Ohio State University. He said he subsequently discovered Mount Vernon’s musical and cultural roots, and thought it was a great foundation upon which to build the Ohiolina festival.

Koenig explained, “Sam Barone and the Community Foundation Board took a chance on me. Usually to get funding for such a project, you have to fill out mountains of paperwork.” Chris appreciated how easy it was to work with the Community Foundation, adding that a portion of every ticket sold comes back to the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County to support a future Ohiolina Music Scholarship.

Friends of Quarry Chapel successful in restoration

Located on the corner of Quarry Chapel and Monroe Mills Roads in Gambier, the familiar Quarry Chapel boasts a colorful history. Chair of the Friends of the Quarry Chapel board, Tom Hoffmann recently announced the completion of a fund-raising campaign to mark the 150th anniversary of the chapel. The final total of $115,770 exceeded the initial campaign goal by more than 100 percent. The bell was replaced, the grounds were repaired and enhanced, and an updated electrical system was installed as part of this campaign.

Additionally a Quarry Chapel endowment fund has been created with the Community Foundation to facilitate future maintenance.

Stonemasons building Kenyon College constructed Christ Church at the Quarry in 1862 as their place of worship. By 1930 most of the congregation had moved away or joined other churches in the community and the chapel was de-consecrated and abandoned.

In 1967 College Township assumed ownership of the property. The Quarry Chapel Restoration Society came into existence to prevent any further deterioration of the Quarry Chapel. During this time, the chapel was officially recognized as a national historic landmark. Volunteers helped restore the chapel making interior and exterior improvements in 1998. In 2009 the Friends of the Quarry Chapel was established and took on the restoration project.

Hoffmann and the Friends of the Quarry Chapel look forward to having the Quarry Chapel serve as a place for weddings, concerts, and other events in Knox County. Hoffmann said, “We are especially grateful to the Community Foundation for its guidance and support of this campaign.”

Recovery room project improves cats’ prognoses

When Knox County Humane Society Board Chair Carole Jarvis brought a grant proposal to the Community Foundation she and her fellow volunteers had a tragedy on their hands. In November of 2012, an outbreak of feline bordatella infected the shelter’s cat population. Kennel cough is common in dogs, but not in cats. Sadly, all the infected cats had to be euthanized.

KCHS identified the likely source of contamination: dogs who came to the shelter for spay surgery and recovered in the feline bonding room. The Community Foundation agreed to provide funds for materials to enclose an outdoor porch area to provide an isolated recovery space for non-resident dogs and cats. Terry Kochheiser of TK’s Remodeling provided construction labor free of charge.

In addition to its health benefits the new recovery room enables KCHS to safely house and spay more dogs and cats.
Equine center grant addresses accessibility
Karen Sanchez runs a tight ship at the Shane Center for Therapeutic Horsemanship located on Willow Farm in Centerburg. Therapeutic horsemanship and therapeutic horseback riding uses horses and equine assisted activities to enhance physical, emotional, social, cognitive, behavioral and educational skills of people who have disabilities.

The Shane Center offers three such programs. Their flagship program, “Therapeutic Riding,” gives students the opportunity to learn the actual skills involved in riding a horse. “Horsin’ Around” is designed to accommodate independent riders with special needs, as well as typical beginner and intermediate youth riders. “StableMates” immerses children in the health, safety, and care of horses.

All three programs foster relationships among students, with and without disabilities, creating a unique opportunity for both to view each other as peers rather than as “special” or “normal.”

Beginning in 2009, the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County helped fund the Shane Center’s major projects. Safety is the number one priority at the Shane Center and being able to replace worn or damaged equipment is paramount to the program’s success. For this reason, Sanchez initially approached the Foundation seeking funds to support the maintenance and replacement of three types of equipment including riding tools, instructional aides, and facility materials.

Since then the Foundation has helped to fund the construction of run-in horse shelters, saddles and saddle pads, horse stall renovations, barn renovations, and tuition support.

Summer camp seeks to retain academic gains
Children are likely to struggle to retain information they learn in school without intellectual stimulation during the summer. Stemming summertime brain-drain is the object of Mount Vernon Nazarene University’s Summer Quest.

A Community Foundation grant has enabled the lowering of tuition to $25 per student for the day camp that recently served 349 students, up to middle school age, with course offerings such as Human Body Quest, Art Quest, Geology Quest and Detective Quest.

Summer Quest Directors Jessica Grubaugh and Amy Dubusky agree the Community Foundation is fostering the growth and progress of the next generation of thinkers, scientists, artists, and much more.

Pooled resources rescue aging aquatics center
The aquatics pump room of the YMCA might not look like much, and may be considered inconsequential by many, but without it, there would be no public indoor pool in Knox County.

YMCA of Mount Vernon Executive Director Nick Clark brought to the Community Foundation’s, and others’, attention serious problems in the 47-year-old pump room.

Many of the components in the old pump room were original to the 1965 structure.

“We didn’t know if the pump would fail tomorrow, only that it would fail without warning and soon,” Clark recalled. “The Community Foundation and the Ariel Foundation came to our rescue.”

Most of the updates were one-for-one replacements of existing equipment. However, the three massive old filters were replaced with four smaller new ones that would fit through the door. Non-corroding PVC components were substituted for many of the old cast iron ones. The YMCA also installed a variable frequency drive, which helps the pool do a slow start, extending the life of components, and added a UV sanitizing system. After filtering, the water from the pool is exposed to two high-powered UV bulbs, killing any residual bacteria in the water and reducing the amount of chemicals needed for treatment.

Clark said, “Updating our pump room essentially gives us a new pool,” which he hopes will serve the community another 50 years.

Centerburg classrooms reshaped by technology
Centerburg High School and Middle School Principal Ryan Gallwitz is leading the charge to incorporate technology into the traditional classroom with a grant from the Community Foundation for the purchase of Chromebooks.

The use of Chromebooks and “Google Apps for Education” has changed the educator’s role, Gallwitz said. “Teachers no longer need to be the sage on the stage; they now need to be the guide on the side.” Employing the limitless potential of technology “high flyers can go as far as they can, and the kids who are struggling can get extra help from the teacher.”

The ultimate objective of the 21st Century classroom project is to increase student achievement and encourage critical thinking to solve real world problems.

Gallwitz is convinced Centerburg Schools’ Community Foundation-supported effort will improve the learning environment, encourage individual motivation, and promote better critical thinking skills.

Independent auditors’ report for 2013

To the Board of Directors of The Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County,

We have audited the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position of the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County (the Foundation) as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the related consolidated statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the financial consolidated statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Community Foundation of Mount Vernon & Knox County and supporting organization as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the consolidated statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
